

June 6, 2002 Thursday 10:23 AM

After stomach massage or rowings on the reformer, traditionally the swan come next, partially for a release of the hip flexors. Today I saw an instructor lay prone across an 8 inch roller to accomplish the same thing.

After doing the short box, and laying forward over your legs for release she likes to tell clients to “let your worries fall out of your head.”